21 Best Practices for Successful IEP Meetings

with

Nicholas R. Martin, MA THE CENTER FOR ACCORD, INC. Plano, Texas www.4accord.com This program is copyrighted by © The Center for Accord, Inc., 2011 and is being provided with permission to CADRE.

Thank you in advance for honoring the copyright and not duplicating or further distributing this material.

Introductions

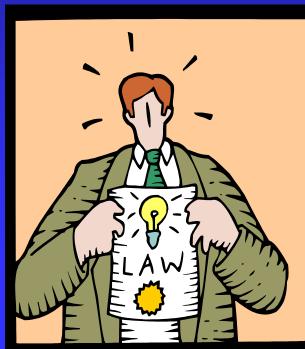

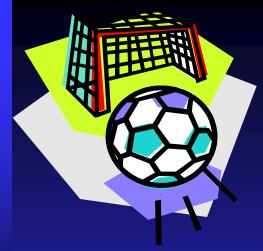

The Basic Premise

IDEA requires schools and parents to work together collaboratively towards consensus for the benefit of children without ever showing them how!

This training is designed to help bridge that gap.

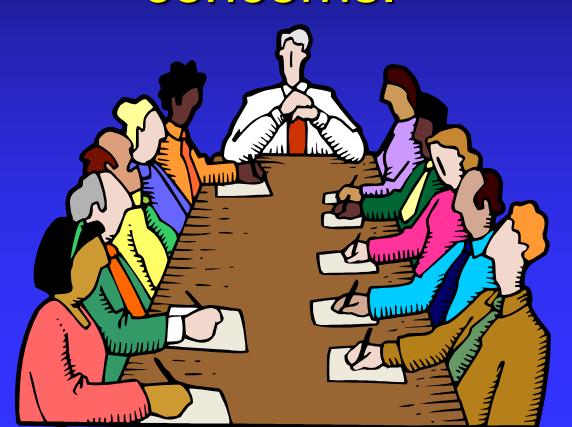

Workshop Objectives

To enhance the skills necessary to conduct effective IEP meetings for the benefit of children with special needs

Interviews with leaders of parent organizations reveal a number of frequently voiced concerns.

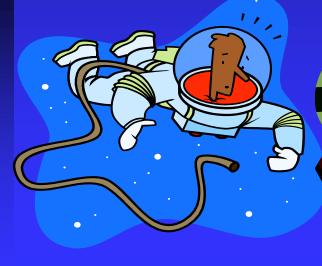

Getting parents involved in training and activities is very difficult.

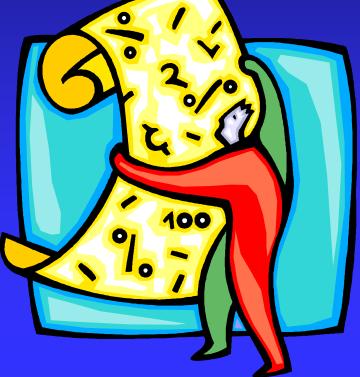

2. IEP team members often have differing objectives and constraints – financial, staffing, available resources, and time.

3. Parents often feel alone with their many feelings, and school staff may be insufficiently aware or supportive.

4. Parents may not get evaluation reports ahead of time, so they are often unprepared for and upset by what they hear at

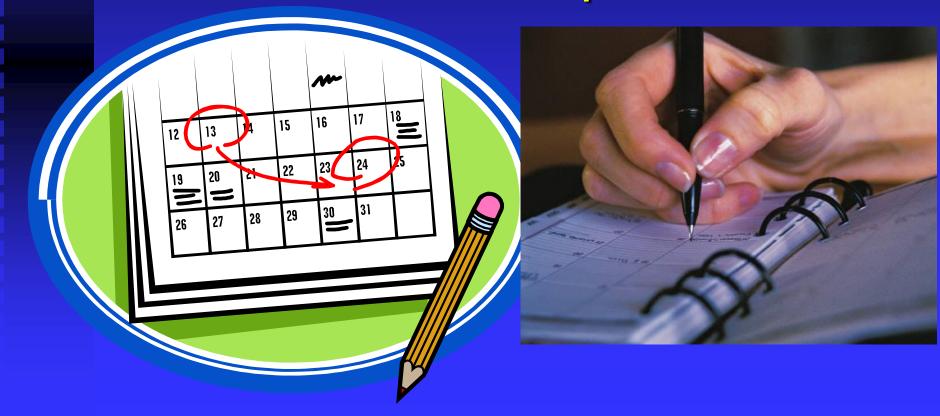

IEP meetings.

5. The IEP process is often complicated, confusing, and poorly understood.

6. Staff attending IEP meetings frequently have other commitments and can't give adequate time to the meeting.

7. Meetings are often scheduled at the convenience of school staff rather than parents.

8. Parents of children with special needs have often had a history of negative experience with school staff.

9. Confidentiality is breached, especially in smaller communities where participants know each another in a variety of contexts.

10. Parents often feel intimidated by the presence of several school personnel and don't see themselves as equal partners on the IEP team and in their child's a U education.

11. General classroom teachers often have a limited understanding of the IEP process and may see the child with special needs as a burden and intrusion.

12. IEP meetings lack a clear structure, including introductions, agenda, and objectives. Tangents are common, as is running out of time.

Seeds of Conflict

1. Process is not well understood.

- 2. Perception of one against many.
- 3. Lack of structure.
- 4. Lack of time.

Question:

How do the parent concerns fit with the "weasel words" (FAPE, LRE, IEP, etc.)?

Maybe DPHs don't always address the real issues?

Good and Bad Meetings

Think of meetings you have attended that you really enjoyed.

What made them effective? What did you like about them?

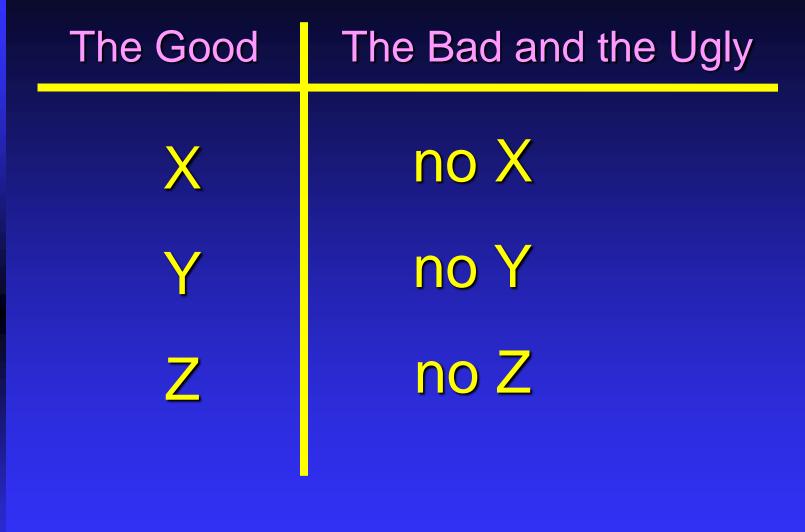

Good and Bad Meetings

Think of any meetings you have attended that you dreaded.

What made them ineffective and what did you not like about them?

There's only one list.

Good and Bad Meetings

How can we use these insights to make our IEP meetings the best that they can be?

 pre-conferencing occurs to assure adequate preparation by all participants

2. pre-conferencing with parents occurs when difficult issues are anticipated

3. evaluation results are reviewed in advance

4. child care has been arranged in advance

 chairperson meets informally with parents before the formal meeting (to welcome, answer questions, cover procedural safeguards, etc.)

6. all participants are introduced to each other

7. a written agenda is visible to all participants, on paper or posted

See~

samt

Any additions?

Do we agree?

8. round table seating in a comfortable setting, free from noise and distractions

 refreshments are provided to promote comfort and a welcoming atmosphere

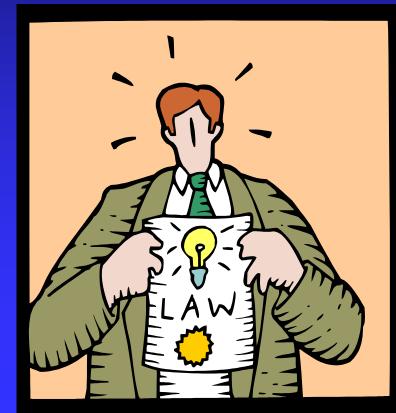

10. each member is time conscious

Characteristics of Ideal IEP Meetings 11. the chairperson budgets the available time and politely redirects participants who wander

0

12. guidelines (rules) are agreed phones, focus, time, respect, leaving, owies, etc.

13. an atmosphere of mutual respect exists

14. participants share in and contribute to a common purpose

15. breaks are taken as needed

16. the meeting has a clear purpose; and roles and responsibilities are clear for tasks occurring before, during, and after the meeting

17. the outcome of the meeting is restated at the end for clarity and any necessary correction

Characteristics of Ideal IEP Meetings 18. a written "parking lot" is established for issues to be addressed at a later date, rather than letting them

19. an "open door" exists for airing and sharing between meetings

Characteristics of Ideal IEP Meetings 20. Closing remarks as SOP What if every meeting ended with a short "debrief": Anything anyone would like to say before we

 How do we feel about today's meeting – anything we should do differently next time?

close for today?

IEP COMMITTEE MEETING EVALUATION

This evaluation form is intended to help us work more effectively together and do our best possible work as a team for the benefit of our student. Thank you for caring enough to share your honest thoughts and feelings.

1) On a scale of 1-10, with 10 high, please indicate your overall satisfaction with today's meeting by circling one of the following:

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

2) What did you find most worthwhile or commendable about this meeting?

3) How might this meeting have been improved, or what might we do differently next time?

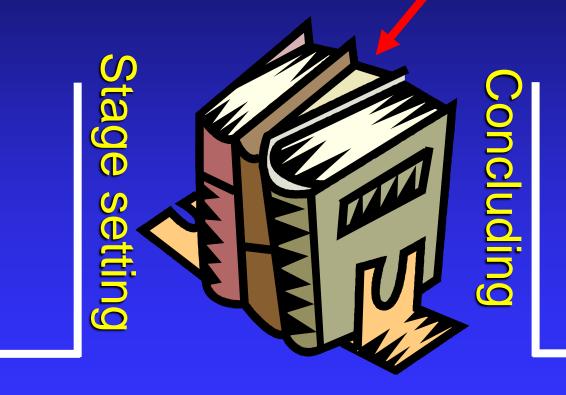

4) Any additional comments?

See handout

21. the meeting ends on a positive note, and participants are thanked for their time and contributions Great job! Thanks, y'all!

The IEP "Environment"

The meeting

Before

During

Resources for further study....

Brookes Publishing Co. www.brookespublishing.com www.4accord.com

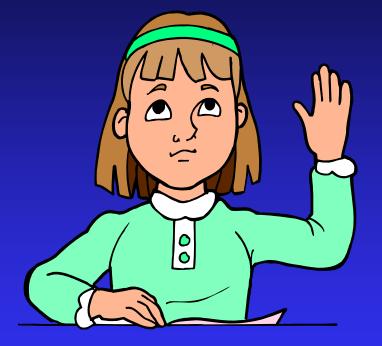

Resources for further study....

Articles and videos at www.4accord.com

www.4accord.com nick.martin@4accord.com